The Zoning Ordinance indicates what can be built and where it can be built. The Ordinance also shows what each parcel in the Township can be used for, including the minimum size of structures and where they can be located on the parcel. Regulations governing fences (Section 15.05), swimming pools (Section 15.11), signs (Section 17 ), etc. are also in the Ordinance. Each zoning district such as Residential, Lake Residential, Commercial, Agricultural, etc. has its own regulations. Just because you have a house on a parcel does not mean it is zoned Residential, and just because you have a farm it doesn't mean it is zoned Agricultural. Check the Zoning Map to confirm what zoning district you are in.

The Noise Ordinance and Vehicle Ordinance are "stand alone" Ordinances. These Ordinances do not have a "grandfather" clause, so just because you have done it for twenty years does not mean you can do it now.

If you would like to rezone your property or do something on your property that is not allowed in the Zoning Ordinance, you will need one of the following submit one of the following applications; Rezoning, Special Land Use or Variance.

If you would like to split or divide your property or combine your contiguous properties you will need to apply for a Land Division / Combination.
